

Pinelopi Tsatsouli_CV

Pinelopi Tsatsouli holds a PhD in History and Museums Studies from the Department of Humanities at the Democritus University of Thrace. She also holds a BA in History from the same department and an MA in Museology and Cultural Management from the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. Additionally, she is a certified Tourist Guide accredited by the Hellenic Republic, Ministry of Tourism. From April 2021 to July 2023, she worked as a Museological Research Coordinator for the “Digital Thrace” project held by the Democritus University of Thrace, where she was involved in the design, documentation and digital interpretation of cultural heritage content. She has also gained valuable experience as an Assistant Curator at the House of European History (DG Communication, European Parliament - Schuman Scholarships) in Brussels and as an Assistant Educator at the Thessaloniki Museum of Photography. Her professional experience further includes the organisation and implementation of cultural events and exhibitions as a freelance Museologist, as well as interpretive work in the field of cultural tourism. Additionally, she taught at Vocational Training Institutes as a certified Adult Educator and currently works as a High School Teacher, teaching history and modern Greek. She also serves as a Country Expert (Greece) for the development of the Second General Report of the Observatory on History Teaching in Europe (OHTE) under the auspices of the Council of Europe. She is an active member of esteemed organizations such as the International Society of History Didactics (ISHD), the Association for History Education in Greece (A.H.Ed.G) and the Laboratory of Technology, Research & Applications in Education at the Democritus University of Thrace. Her research and professional interests focus on History Didactics, Museum History Education, Museology and Modern and Public History, with emphasis on cultural heritage, difficult and traumatic past, digital technologies and educational practices. She has participated in numerous international and national conferences and seminars in these fields.